FOREWORD (I, Too by Langston Hughes)

I, too, sing America.

I am the darker brother.
They send me to eat in the kitchen
When company comes,
But I laugh,
And eat well,
And grow strong.

Tomorrow,
I'll be at the table
When company comes.
Nobody'll dare
Say to me,
"Eat in the kitchen,"
Then.

Besides,
They'll see how beautiful I am
And be ashamed—

I, too, am America.

RESPONSE (We are here by Charlene Browne)

We are here
Through the storm and the rain
We are here
Despite the sweat and the pain

On our skin
You see the bullseye for your hate
With your mouth
you shred our existence and condemn our fate

But our voices, yes our voices
Break the bonds of your disgrace
And our souls, oh our souls
Grow stronger everyday

So we will sing
until we die
Let our stories
lay us to rest

We are here
We are here
And you will listen,
Oh you will listen.
