

2.26.18

mirror green rivers thaw convex flows, smoothly alongside, our bodies gliding on powder blue skies disguise a vapor moon crisp evergreen branches soar through and to dancing with the winding pavement weightless wanderings with purpose warm glittering sunlight streaks roaming dictated by the river

roughly five minutes
in the background subconscious soothing calm unearthly tones fill my head cement this moment melancholy melody transports peace to the future nostalgia jolts, piercing the present secret moments, collection of friends
